

FarmWorks Clients July 2023

FarmWorks Clients, current and past, are among the finest, most energetic, enthusiastic and motivated entrepreneurs to be found in this province! Their businesses make tremendous contributions to rural and urban economies by providing local goods and services, creating jobs, purchasing from other local businesses, and raising awareness of the benefits of supporting Nova Scotian people, businesses and communities. Challenges and Opportunities

FarmWorks Directors understand the challenges affecting the local food system and the opportunities that can result from investment in local businesses. After comprehensive due diligence, funds, mentoring and on-going support are provided to enable entrepreneurs to take advantage of opportunities from field to table. FarmWorks has become a go-to organization for food-related enterprises and seeks to collaborate with everyone helping to grow food-related businesses in Nova Scotia.

About one million Nova Scotians spend almost four billion dollars annually on food and beverages, at home and away from home, and only about 15% of the ingredients are grown and processed in Nova Scotia.

FarmWorks encourages people to buy fresh, healthy, seasonal food when they can. Every dollar spent on local food is an investment in our present and our future. Attraction and retention of dynamic food entrepreneurs, such as those supported by FarmWorks, supports the growth of associated businesses and provides economic, social and environmental benefits across NS and beyond.

FarmWorks has provided over $8.5 M capital and other support for food-related businesses. More new applications than ever are being received and the successes of our clients indicates the potential for greater investment to increase food entrepreneurship in NS.

FarmWorks Clients thank the Shareholder investors who provide the capital that enables them to provide excellent food and beverages. Please let FarmWorks Directors know if you are interested in becoming a shareholder so you can help support farmers and producers in one of the most needed fields in Nova Scotia. Food is crucial for our future.
